Use our website for campaign materials and inspiration for your ETW activities

Don't forget to check out our website to see all the resources available to you when planning your ETW activities. Download our campaign materials (<https://www.testingweek.eu/campaign-materials/>) and find lots of other resources for use and inspiration, including success stories with examples of ETW activities across Europe. Get ideas for how organisations, healthcare professionals and government bodies can contribute to ETW's objectives and make a real difference: <https://www.testingweek.eu/get-involved/why-get-involved/>. Our toolkits also provide ideas for organizing ETW activities and fundraising for your ETW activities.

Make sure to download and use the logo and web banners, and to use our hashtags (#EuroTestWeek and #TestTreatPrevent) to show that your organization is part of European Testing Week!

Tag @EuroTestWeek on Twitter and Facebook, if you promote your Testing Week activities on social media. The logo is currently available in 21 different languages. If you would like the ETW November logo to be translated to your logo, please contact us at eurotest.rigshospitalet@regonh.dk.

Are your testing services included in our European Test Finder?

There are currently 648 testing sites in 43 countries registered on www.testfinder.info - is your organization one of them? If not, make sure your services are also included and help more people get access to testing services.

Visit <https://www.testfinder.info/register> to learn how and get more info, or watch our short video here.

Apply for free use of Cepheid's GeneXpert testing system

(Sponsored post)

Ahead of #EuroTestWeek on 21 – 28 November 2022, Cepheid invites non-profit organizations located in EU countries to apply for free use of a GeneXpert system to test for HIV, Hepatitis and STIs during ETW. The deadline to apply is 1st October 2022.
